

REMARKS

Please reconsider the application in view of the above amendments and the following remarks.

Deposition of Claims

Claims 1-27 remain pending. Claims 1, 14 and 27 are independent claims. The remaining claims depend directly or indirectly from claims 1 or 14. Applicant has amended claims 1 and 14 to clarify the file identifier language in the claims. Applicant has canceled claim 27. Applicant's amendments are from the pending claim set contained in Applicant's appeal brief.

Claims 1-26 are rejected because the claim recited two different "a file identifier" at lines 3 and 5. The examiner states that it is not clear whether the Applicant refers to which of the file identifier.

The file identifier language in line 3 refers to the File Identifier and Defined Name database. Initially, the invention creates a file identifier to defined name mapping database. A file identifier is created for each defined name of a file system resource (See Figure 4). The database comprises these mappings of defined names and file identifiers. This database is shown in block 703 of Figure 7 and is described in Figures 1 and 2. As described in Figure 2 and paragraph [0034], when an application attempts to access a file, a path name is provided for that file. Each file in the path has a corresponding defined name and file identifier. The file identifier language is lines 5 and 8 are for file identifiers from the database that correspond to each file system resource in the path. Line 5 covers to one system resource. Line 8 covers a different system resource. The present invention constructs and caches a chain of file identifiers that represent the full path to a file system resource.
